Dale Hollow Fish Hatchery

The Dale Hollow Fish Hatchery is located below Dale Hollow Dam. Operated by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, this National Fish Hatchery stocks approximately 1.5 million rainbow, brown, and lake trout annually to the waters of Tennessee. Visitors are welcome to tour the hatchery and aquarium, the hours are 7 am to 3:30 pm daily. For more information, contact Dale Hollow National Fish Hatchery, (931) 243-2443.

Reciprocal Fishing

Tennessee and Kentucky have a reciprocal agreement so that a fishing license from either state is valid. The Dale Hollow Reciprocal Fishing Water is recognized in the Wolf River, including Illwill Creek, beginning at a line crossing the Wolf River at its mouth where it joins the Obey River.

Dale Hollow Hunting

Check with your Ranger for information about boundaries. Use extra caution when near a shoreline. The lake was purchased in the late 1930's early 1940's. In some areas boundaries included entire tracks while others just set aside a minimum. As an example, Red Oak Ridge Trail area covers multiple acres, while near Gum Grove there is very little.

Life Jackets Worn...Nobody Mourns!

A strong swimmer averages 10 minutes to put on a life jacket after entering the water. Wearing a life jacket buys time for you to be rescued. Many drowning victims never intended to enter the water. It takes an average of 60 seconds for an adult to drown, and just 20 seconds for a child. Water-related Fatalities: 88% Men; 84% No Life Jacket Worn; 27% Boating Falls. Regardless of how well you swim, you could have to fight for your life due to unexpected conditions such as waves, current, exhaustion or injury. Swimming abilities are likely to decrease with age, so please don't overdo it. If you won't wear a life jacket for yourself, wear it for those who love you!
